Introduction

WHO Collaborating Center for Psychosocial Rehabilitation and Community Mental Health of Yongin Mental Hospital was designated in Apr. 2003. Terms of References of the center are following (1) To collaborate with the WHO in the development and provision of clinically effective psychiatric rehabilitation and community mental health services in line with the Western Pacific Region Mental Health Strategy; (2) To collaborate in training and education activities of the WHO's programs, the training and re-orientation of mental health professionals and primary health care workers in order to develop the attitudes, skills, and knowledge needed for modern mental health care; (3) To join the WHO's advocacy efforts in the field of mental health, with a devotion to increasing awareness of both policy-makers and the general public of the importance of mental health in Korea; (4) To conduct research on the cognitive and vocational functioning of mentally ill patients; (5) To conduct ongoing evaluations and clinical outcome studies of psychosocial rehabilitation programs.

To achieve the second term of training and re-orientation of mental health professionals and primary health care workers, we would like to invite mental health professionals in our Western Pacific Region to train in the WHO CC.

Facilities for the Training and Education

1) Psychiatric Rehabilitation Center in the Hospital (established in 1994)

Newly re-opened Psychiatric Rehabilitation Center in the Hospital has a guest room on the 5th floor.

2) Seoul Metropolitan Mental Health Center (established in 2005)

3) Yongin Community Mental Health Center (established in 1997)

4) Seongnam Community Mental Health Center (established in 1999)

5) Anyang Community Mental Health Center (established in 2003)

6) Rehabilitation Facility-Group Home (2000)

7) Seongnam Alcohol Counseling Center (established in 2005)

Scope and Objectives of Activities

The relationship between educational approaches to staff development and improved consumer outcome is already verified in mental health area. Teaching staff about learning strategies will lead to more effective rehabilitation program. The training efforts should focus on helping mental health workers develop user-friendly rehabilitation program rather than on insisting that individuals learn state-of-the-art intervention. Duration of the training is basically two months, but it can be adjusted to the need of the trainee
